Superforts Rip Rangoon

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Superforts bombed Rangoon today as Japan threw its best pilots into a desperate attempt to rescue battered remnants of imperial ground forces from a death trap being closed on Leyte island by Gen. MacArthur. The War Department announced a "substantial force" of B-29's, carrying the greatest bomb load per plane in aerial history, effectively smashed railway yards in Rangoon. These Burma raiders flew from India bases. A communique from Allied southeast Asia command headquarters said Eastern Air Command planes have scored hits on the central Burma-Rangoon oil pipeline at SinBaungwe and the important rail bridge at Dara, Siam.

U. S. 14th Air Force headquarters in China announced two sweeps over the south China sea by B-24 Liberator bombers yesterday in which a Japanese destroyer was sunk and a large transport was damaged and left listing.

U. S. 14th Air Force planes also attacked in French Indo-China, hitting a barracks area at Lucan, and striking at river traffic and the Galam airdrome at Hanoi.

An eight-hour air battle was fought around a convoy off Ormoc as recently arrived reinforcements were reported trying to flee from Leyte, where routed Japs have already suffered an estimated 30,000 casualties.

Every available American fighter plane joined in a merciless attack on the convoy and its tight aerial cover. Twenty-seven Jap planes were shot down. Many P38S were damaged by accurate anti-aircraft fire from Jap destroyers, but none was lost. As his victorious ground forces pushed toward Ormoc from three directions, MacArthur announced "the end of the Leyte-Samar campaign is in sight."

A .50 caliber bullet fired by a strafing Jap plane missed MacArthur's head by a scant foot yesterday.

Under the impetus of a shattering 18-hour barrage by the 24th Division Artillery, Japanese fled from Carigara where they had been expected to make a stand.

Bare-footed, straw-hatted Filipino guerrillas marched into smoking Carigara with the steel-helmeted infantrymen of the 24th Division where they joined the dismounted First Cavalry.

Combined patrols pushed westward three miles to Capocan without catching up with the enemy.

Capture of Carigara and Capocan sealed off Japs remaining in Leyte valley and former the north arm of a three-way trap being closed on Ormoc, last enemy concentration point.

BATTLE TO CLEAR RIVER—British and Canadian troops (arrows) engage Nazi troops in battle to clear the Schelde river entrance to Antwerp. Allies attacked Walcheren Island from three sides. German resistance on the south shore of the Schelde estuary is reduced to small pockets around Heyst and Knocke.

FIGHT NEAR END—American forces (arrows) on Leyte, in the Philippines make a juncture at Carigara, forcing Jap troops to retreat to Ormoc, last enemy escape port. Other forces, driving west across the waist of the island, have reached Baybay, 26 miles south of Ormoc. Gen. MacArthur says end of the Leyte-Samar campaign is in sight.

A special communique from U. S. Strategic Air Force headquarters today revealed destruction of 208 German aircraft over the synthetic oil center of Merseburg.

It scaled American losses to 40 heavy bombers and 19 fighters. One bomber and nine fighters, previously listed as lost in yesterday's operations, landed safely in France. The communique said "still others probably landed behind our lines in Europe."

MOSCOW, Nov. 3 (AP)—Russian tanks, guns and men rumbled today toward the outskirts of Budapest, where front dispatches said panic prevailed as the noise of battle swelled 23 miles away.

The Red army already was smashing into the outer defenses of the ancient city of 1,162,800 on the Danube.

Chinese Retake Lungling

CHUNGKING, Nov. 3 (AP)—Lungling, principal remaining Japanese bastion on the Salween river front in southwest China, was recaptured today by the Chinese after a blazing five-day assault, the high command announced. This removed the last major obstacle toward a juncture of the Lede and Burma roads and reopening of a land supply route to China.

Newton Nurse Hunt Pressed

MONSON, Me., Nov. 3—Fearful that further exposure will mean death, scores of volunteers desperately pressed a search here today for Miss Saima Suomi, 29, former nurse at a Newton, Mass., hospital, who vanished into the woodlands Tuesday when flames destroyed her family home.

Mild weather and the fact Miss Suomi wore a coat when she fled has led searchers to believe she may be found alive.

The young woman had been under treatment for a nervous disorder and had been recuperating in Maine, according to Deputy Sheriff Lyle Towne, who is heading the posse of searchers.

In fog and light rain, deputy sheriffs and townspeople of Monson and Bradford covered miles of woods both day and night, using powerful searchlights throughout the nights.

Blanket of Fog Slows Traffic

Dense fog cutting visibility along coastal highways to less than 10 feet, brought traffic to a near standstill for several hours today until the sun's rays cleared away the almost impenetrable blanket.

Cars were stalled along North Shore main arteries for several miles as the drivers gave up their attempts to continue.

Many rear-end collisions were reported. Cars that kept moving traveled at less than 10 miles an hour.

Train and bus schedules also were affected. Several bus companies reported their drivers were forced to pull up alongside the road until visibility improved.

The weatherman was blissfully undisturbed by the hazardous traffic troubles. He called the fog "just the usual thing in autumn" and predicted "a couple more mornings like this."

FD's Bow to Walsh Act of Desperation

By JAMES J. DELANEY

Desperate for the 16 electoral votes of Massachusetts, President Roosevelt comes to Boston tomorrow with hand outstretched in unspoken but very apparent apology to Sen. Walsh for the isolationist slur hurled by his Presidential running-mate, Sen. Truman.

Jubilant New Dealers announced that Sen. Walsh would join the Presidential special at Worcester and would be present with the President when he makes his big bid for Bay State votes at Fenway Park tomorrow night.

They were not stressing the fact, however, that President Roosevelt telephoned the Clinton Senator and Bay State leader of democracy and personally made the request—a request which Sen. Walsh himself termed tantamount to a command.

The Senator repudiated this assertion today saying he accepted the invitation, which "as I said, under the circumstances, I regard as tantamount to a command."

"When the Chief Executive and Commander-in-Chief of our armed forces requests the presence of anyone in time of war, it must be regarded as a command."

Asked if he knew the President's reason for wishing him to meet him at Worcester, Sen. Walsh replied:

"No, I do not. He has graciously extended to me his personal invitation to meet him, which I have accepted. I will be there. What we are to confer about, I do not know at this time."

The action of the President indicated to political experts that his need for the Massachusetts electoral votes must be desperate, since he had long been noted for his tactics of running roughshod over any Democrat he chose, particularly those of this State.

Such leaders as Joseph P. Kennedy and James M. Curley are among the many who can attest to White House roughshod tactics, especially when their views varied from those of Sidney Hillman, Felix Frankfurter, Adolph Berle and other Roosevelt brain trusters and advisers.

Walsh's appearance in the Roosevelt party was fooling none of his close friends, however.

They know how he feels on many New Deal matters and today they were applauding loudly

Triplets in Hub Area

Wakefield has triplets to rival Philadelphia's famed quads.

Three healthy boys, six days old today, were reported doing better than holding their own at Winchester Hospital where their arrival Saturday at 5:30 a. m. was the hospital's first set of triplets in 10 years.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Palmer of Hamilton rd., Wakefield, and arrival of the trio came as no surprise to them.

"We knew it a month ago when Dr. Joan Holleran of Wakefield took X-rays," the proud father, an employe of the General Electric River Works, said today. "They were born prematurely and are still in incubators. I've only seen them myself once, but the doctors report they're coming along fine. And Mrs. Palmer is progressing well, too."

Palmer said his wife had selected names for the youngsters, "but we don't know yet which one will get what name." The names will be Howard Linter, Blake Wilde and Christopher John.

The first born weighed 2 pounds 9 ounces. The No. 2 arrival was the heaviest, 3 pounds 11 ounces. The third weighed 3 pounds 8 ounces.

The Palmers have one other child, a boy, aged 2.

Kleagle Swears Truman Joined KKK, Paid Dues

By ROBEY PARKS AND DAVID SENTNER
Special to the Boston Evening American

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—The former King Kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan declared in a sworn statement that the official records of the hooded organization showed that Harry S. Truman, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, was a bona fide member.

Harold Bullard, member of the supreme government of the Ku Klux Klan, asserted in a sworn affidavit that in the course of his official duties he had discovered that Truman's application for membership in the Klan, bearing his signature, together with his membership card and record of dues payments, were a part of the official files in the Klan's Kansas City headquarters.

"They were on file in the Imperial Palace of the Invisible Empire on Peachtree ave., in Atlanta, Ga., declared Bullard in his sworn statement, adding:

"It was a well-established fact and common knowledge among the thousands of Ku Klux Klan members in Jackson County, Mo., that Harry S. Truman was a citizen of the Invisible Empire and one of their brothers."

Bullard, resident of Independence, Mo., is a well-known mining engineer. One of his sons is a lieutenant in a combat engineers unit fighting in Italy and was awarded the Silver Star for outstanding bravery in the Tunisian campaign. Another of his sons is a warrant officer with the Seabees and is now in action in the Philippines.

Here is the sworn affidavit of former King Kleagle Bullard:

The following statement is made by me voluntarily, without mental reservation and without promise of compensation or reward, and I avow that its contents are true.

For a number of years, beginning in 1920, I was a member of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. In 1922 I was admitted as a member of the Imperial Klan of the Invisible Empire.

I became the Klan's propaganda department trouble shooter in the states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, and Tennessee. My official title was King Kleagle of the Imperial Klan.

I maintained official headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., through the years 1922 and 1923, after being assigned by Imperial Wizard Joseph Simmons to special field work as a lecturer of Klan ritual. Each time that new classes of applicants for membership were ready for induction, I was called upon to address their meetings.

During the Klan's heyday such classes usually aggregated 500 to as many as 5000 persons. While in Pittsburgh, Kansas, during the month of August, 1922, making preparations to induct into the Ku Klux Klan a class of several thousand applicants, I was directed by Col. Simmons to go to Kansas City, Mo., to address approximately 20,000 members of the invisible empire at a special law enforcement rally called in protest against the corrupt government of the Tom Pendergast political machine.

I well remember that upon arrival in Kansas City I was informed by Exalted Cyclops Harry Hoffman and Exalted Cyclops Lee Allen that the principal speaker to appear on the program with me was Harry S. Truman, a young farmer and business man from Grandview, Mo., who then was a candidate for eastern judge of the Jackson County court.

Both Hoffman and Allen, as well as numerous other persons who then were connected with the Ku Klux Klan at Kansas City, described said Harry Truman to me as a member of the Pendergast political machine.

When I learned of Truman's connections I took a firm stand against his appearance at the TRAINING—Margaret F. McDonough of Swampscott, Spar Coast, prepares to take over Coast Guard shore assignment as the nears completion of her training at Palm Beach, Fla. Prior to joining the service, Miss McDonough was a Lynn clerk.

Ku Klux Klan Law Enforcement Rally as a speaker. That meeting had been called principally for the purpose of fighting Tom Pendergast's corrupt practices, and we were with one of Pendergast's hirelings scheduled to address the Klan rally.

In fact, I was so disconcerted when exalted cyclops Hoffman called me aside and informed me that Harry S. Truman had been admitted as a citizen of the invisible empire that I threatened to cancel my speech and return to Pittsburg, Kan.

However, under pressure of local Ku Klux Klan leaders, many of whom were prominent in business and public life, I reconsidered and did appear as a speaker on that same program with said Harry S. Truman.

The great throng dropped to its knees and was led in prayer by one of our Klan chaplains. This was followed by a mass recital of the Ku Klux Klan oath. That oath included these paragraphs:

"I most solemnly swear that I will forever keep sacredly secret the signs, words and grip and any and all matters and knowledge of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Our national government has its basic law and constitution.

Some time after that Klan rally in Crandall's pasture, I was called back to Kansas City by the local leaders to settle internal strife within several klaverns arising over Harry S. Truman's failure to keep his oath to the invisible empire instead of continuing to take orders from the corrupt Pendergast political machine.

I personally visited Harry S. Truman in his office at Grandview, Mo. We talked for more than an hour about the local Klan grievances and the invisible empire's growing strength in Missouri. We also discussed the approaching election and Harry Truman's chances of winning the seat on the Jackson County bench.

I remember very clearly sitting there with Harry S. Truman and urging him to stand with us in cleaning up Kansas City. I remember also how he finally promised to go along with the Ku Klux Klan program. But when Tom Pendergast learned of Harry Truman's pledge to us, he put the heat on his protégé. Truman finally denied the siren call of the corrupt political machine and forgot his promises to help clean up the town.

After his election to the county court he became such a tool of the Pendergast politicians that we vowed he would never be re-elected. Nor was he. At the next election we supported Henry Rummel for Truman's seat on the Jackson county bench, and Truman was defeated.

In the course of my duties I discovered that Harry S. Truman filed a regular application for membership in the Ku Klux Klan. That application bearing his signature, together with his membership card and financial sheets listing his initiation fee and dues payments, were a part of the official Ku Klux Klan records in the Kansas City headquarters of the organization. They were on file in the imperial palace of the invisible empire on Peachtree ave., in Atlanta, Ga.

It was a well-established fact and common knowledge among the thousands of Ku Klux Klan members in Jackson County, Mo., that Harry S. Truman was a citizen of the invisible empire and one of their brothers.

That was the same Harry S. Truman who now is a candidate for vice-president of the United States.

(Signed) HAROLD BULLARD.

Throng Cheer Dewey's Demand To End Secret Deal Government

sylvania, entered the final stretch of his drive for the White House today with the assertion that "it is time to bring an end to government by secret deals."

Cheered by enormous crowds in Buffalo, Boston, Baltimore and the anthracite section of Pennsylvania, the Republican presidential nominee planned to work today on his climax speech in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Since he left Albany Tuesday, Gov. Dewey has delivered 13 speeches and been greeted by crowds conservatively estimated at more than a million, of whom 600,000 turned out in Massachusetts, about 30,000 in Buffalo and Rochester.

The Republican nominee received his greatest encouragement of the trip from the Republican governors of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts is running for the U. S. Senate, and leaders of both parties admit he will poll a tremendous vote. That should aid the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

In addition, Boston, with its large Irish Catholic population, reacted favorably to Gov. Dewey's slashing attack upon the alleged New Deal-Communist alliance.

The best news, however, was given the Republican nominee by Gov. Martin of Pennsylvania, who said Allegheny County, which President Roosevelt carried by 107,000 in 1940, will give the President a majority of less than 30,000 this year.

Luzerne and Lackawanna Counties will show a change of 30,000 votes from four years ago, in favor of the Republicans, Martin said. The Republican vote outside Philadelphia and Allegheny County will be considerably larger than in 1940.

Gov. Martin told newspapermen he will have the picture in Philadelphia tomorrow, when he meets with Republican leaders there, but he added:

"I think Philadelphia couldn't possibly go bad enough for Roosevelt to carry Pennsylvania."

Gov. Dewey's announced schedule for the next four days calls only for the New York speech tomorrow night and an election eve "get out and vote" talk, but there is possibility of a speech in New Jersey.

In his speeches last night at Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Gov. Dewey lashed out again at the "One Thousand Club," asserting that "we want no secret deals either for special influence in the government at home or in our foreign policy abroad."

Declaring President Roosevelt admitted he "thought up the idea of the notorious One Thousand Club," the G. O. P. nominee said the club now is offering something it doesn't dare put in writing to those who contribute $1000 to the Democratic campaign fund.

He produced a letter, written on the stationery of the Democratic National Committee, which he said was sent to a select group in Kansas by "Mr. Roosevelt's special privilege in government society." He quoted from the letter as follows:

"Membership in this group will be a badge of distinction forever. There are other advantages which I can explain to you when we meet. Instant action is necessary."

The Republican nominee said the club "offers in writing to give special privilege to a select group of men who can afford $1000 for a campaign contribution."

"Then," he added, "it offers something more—something it doesn't dare put in writing. We can only guess what it is."

Gov. Dewey asked if the special privilege had to do with war contracts, special concessions on income taxes or special influence with the War Labor Board or the National Labor Relations Board.

Dr. Hopkins For Dewey

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, announced today his support of Gov. Dewey in a statement released by the Republican National committee.

Declaring "no election was ever more important to the future of America than that of next Tuesday," Hopkins was quoted in the statement as saying, "I am confident of the rightness of Gov. Dewey's thinking in regard to international relations. I shall vote for him because I believe much would be gained by his election and nothing would be lost."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Nov. 3 (AP)—Forty Howard High School pupils went on "strike" today in protest against a new marking system.

The remaining 135 pupils entered the school, but were taunted and jibed by their "striking" associates.

The demonstration followed a meeting last night of pupils, teachers, school committee members and Superintendent of Schools Charles G. Taylor.

At an assembly yesterday Taylor explained a system of numbers would be used henceforth instead of the old letter system. The numbers system, which makes 1, 2, 3 and 4 passing and 5 failure is now in effect in the grammar schools.

The "strikers" milled around the high school entrance for an hour this morning, and despite a plea by Principal Nils Lindell refused to enter.

Taylor said, "the dispute boils down to just one thing, the question of whether the pupils or the school authorities are running the schools of West Bridgewater. There's only one answer, and it's certainly not the pupils."

Philly Quads Given 2 to 1 Chance to Live

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3 (AP)—The odds are now 2-to-1 in favor of A, B, C and D—the Cirminello quadruplets. Dr. Ralph M. Tyson, pediatrician, said the quads have a "good two-third" chance of living.

The most critical period is passed and if they live through the first 48 hours—up this morning—their chances are excellent, he said.

The latest hospital bulletin said the four babies "all appear to be in good condition" and their mother 30-year-old Mrs. Kathleen Cirminello, is also doing fine.

Papa Joseph Cirminello, meanwhile, took his first "time out" from his wife's bedside since the quads were born Wednesday. He said he was going home "to take a shower and change clothes."

The babies, born in a history-making Caesarian operation, are still known as A, B, C and D. The first three—A, B and C—are girls and weigh 3 pounds, 8 ounces; 2 pounds, 14 ounces and 3 pounds, 8 ounces, respectively. The boy is D and he weighs 3 pounds, 5 ounces.

Women Tell of 11-Mo. Babies

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Women are voting 14 to 1 so far in support of Judge William J. Lindsay's decision that a woman could have a baby 11 months after conception.

Last week the court declined to grant a divorce to Merchant Sailor Jack Santucci, 24, because his wife had given birth to a child 11 months after he had gone to sea. Since then 15 women have written the judge and only one dissented.

The lone critic, a woman in Fargo, N. D., wrote:

"A decision like yours certainly gives a lot of women a chance to hang babies on husbands who aren't responsible."

Many of the other writers, like 18-year-old Evelyn Santucci, mothered children after the customary nine-month gestation period.

"God bless you for this very Christian act," a San Antonio, Tex., woman wrote. "Today it seems that so many things go wrong for women. Yet anything is possible. I had a boy 11 months after conception, and now he's healthy and fine and a captain in the Army."

"I swear on a stack of Bibles it could happen," said a woman in Rushville, Ind., who reported her son arrived a month and 24 days overdue in 1918. He now is an Army corporal serving in France.

A St. Paul, Minn., mother reported her first son was born after nine months 21 days, her second after 11 months.

Another mother of an 11 months girl, a resident of Elkhart, Ind., had her letter to Judge Lindsay sworn to before a notary public.

"She smiled and clutched the doctor's curly hair right after she was born," the woman related.

Long Says Tax Need Will Grow

Massachusetts must raise more rather than less taxes next year to meet mounting government demands, according to Commr. Long, who agreed that the $306,000,000 raised in this State in 1944 was certainly a sizeable amount.

"Nobody wants to pay more taxes," Long told the 35th annual conference of the Association of Massachusetts Assessors, meeting at the State House, "but the government is spending more money all the time and Massachusetts will be called on to do her share."

Long urged revaluation of property on the basis of present values and deplored the "tendency to just copy last year's values."

Arlington Hero Wins Air Honors

For valor in action, the Air Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross and Oak Leaf Custer have been awarded to T-Sgt. Edward Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Snell of Mystic st., Arlington, his parents were informed yesterday by the War Department. Sgt. Snell has three brothers now in the service and a fourth, Sgt. Donald Snell, was killed a year ago while on a bombing mission over Germany.

HEADS GROUP—Rev. Francis J. Gilligan, Minnesota priest, who heads the Inter-Racial Commission, set up by Minnesota's Governor, following race riots in Detroit last year, has been joined by many prominent societies and political groups in his fight to eliminate the "hate mongers" from that State. ## Roxbury Hero Done Out Of Prize by Careless Pals

PFC John J. Connolly of Oriole st., Roxbury, a hero of the second battle of Bougainville in the Solomons, today is mourning one of the prizes he should have earned by capturing a Jap.

Connolly got his Jap all right, but his pals done him wrong, according to an Associated Press dispatch from the Southwest Pacific.

On a mission, the Roxbury soldier spied a Jap and crawled up close, finally overpowering him. The Jap surrendered and broke into tears, begging for mercy.

Connolly had his mission to complete so he left his prisoner in the care of several pals who happened along. When he returned to march his prisoner in and claim a nice prize, he found the Jap face up, a bullet hole through his head.

Connolly's friends explained the Jap tried to run away and they had to shoot him. Connolly, who joined the Army in March, 1943, was employed as a mechanic by the New Haven railroad.

Bricker Makes Final Appeal in 3 States

By E. E. EASTERLY
EN ROUTE WITH BRICKER.
Nov. 3 (AP)—Gov. Bricker set out today to cover three states—Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania—in a final appeal for votes on the Eastern seaboard.

The Republican candidate for vice-president, who last night in a speech at Paterson, N. J., assailed President Roosevelt's record on free enterprise, was booked for addresses at Wilmington, Del., Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia.

One of two Philadelphia talks will be broadcast over the Blue Network at 9:30 p. m.

The Ohio Governor, appearing before a Paterson crowd estimated by police at 2500, contended that the President's statement, "I believe in free enterprise and always have," was contrary to the New Deal record.

The New Deal, he said, has pursued a program of management of business, and "instead of expanding productive capacity, destroyed it."

In this program, Bricker added, the New Dealers "forced the destruction of livestock and limited crop production. They discouraged private investment. They stifled business, forced distribution of their earnings and made it impossible for them to expand. They devised tax legislation not primarily to raise revenue but as a device to accomplish radical social changes.

Fight for Governor Furious and Rough

By FRANK REILLY

With only three more days of campaigning left before election, the nip-and-tuck gubernatorial race continued its furious pace today as Mayor Tobin accused Lt. Gov. Cahill of conducting a campaign "noted for its violation of all the rules of dignity and decency."

The mayor hurled his charge in a radio address and at a series of rallies in all sections of the city, asserting that Cahill had been repudiated by every labor group in the state.

"My own campaign," the mayor said, "has been conducted on the issues and on the record. For indulging in his type of campaign, my opponent will pay a heavy price on election day."

Winding up his intensive campaign in Boston, after visiting more than 300 communities in the state, Tobin announced that his candidacy had been endorsed by two more executives of Massachusetts, Mayors Bernard J. Sullivan of Chelsea, and Cornelius O'Brien of North Adams.

Lt.-Gov. Cahill was forced by an attack of laryngitis to cancel speaking engagements in Pittsfield, Adams and North Adams, Gov. Saltonstall, in a radio address, strongly urged Cahill's election, and Rep. Henry L. Shattuck of Back Bay, who twice supported Tobin for mayor, endorsed the Republican nominee.

"I am actively supporting the candidacy of Lt. Gov. Cahill," Rep. Shattuck said, "and I urge all who are interested in good state government to vote for him. He will make a great governor. The state needs his talents and his training to cope successfully with the many great problems facing the incoming administration."

The bitter fight for attorney general waxed hotter between former Lt. Gov. Kelly and Governor's Councilor Barnes.

Kelly assailed Barnes as an opponent of the aged, the veteran and the working man and woman. "On four previous occasions Barnes has met defeat when he sought the office of attorney general," Kelly declared, adding: "History will repeat itself Tuesday."

Barnes flayed Kelly for "taking part in the pardons racket as lieutenant governor." He urged his election "for the safety of Massachusetts," and cited his long career as an attorney and in public life as a state representative and member of the executive council.

Truman Ends 8000-Mile Tour

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3 (AP)—Sen. Truman hit the trail for home today after a vice-presidential campaign tour which has carried him more than 8000 miles and into 23 states.

He left shortly after midnight for Kansas City, whence he will go to his home town of Independence, Mo., to make a final appeal to the voters Saturday and to await next Tuesday's returns.

The senator told reporters he was confident "not only of a Democratic victory in the nation, but of a majority of at least 100,000 in my own state."

In his campaign trip Truman has stressed what he terms the three major issues of the campaign. He has argued that President Roosevelt's re-election is essential to:

1—Win the war quickly, in order to "bring our boys home at the earliest possible time."

2—Establish a permanent peace, backed by force, to prevent World War III.

3—Utilize the nation's $20,000,000,000 investment in war plants for post-war production to provide jobs for returning veterans and displaced war workers.

Election Seen Photo Finish

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—The presidential polls indicate today that it may be a photo finish between Roosevelt and Dewey.

Three nationwide polls repeat the President leading in 20 states with a combined electoral vote of 198. Gov. Dewey, they say, leads in 13 states with a total of 10 electoral votes.

All three, failing to agree on who's ahead in the 15 remaining states, decline to forecast which candidate is likely to get the majority electoral votes that are needed to win.

A fourth vote, conducted by Fortune magazine by the Roper firm, finds Roosevelt favored by 53.5 per cent of the civilian voters, but this poll is not go into the electoral vote.

Dr. George Gallup's American Institute of Public Opinion reports Dewey leading in 22 states with 255 electoral votes, Roosevelt ahead in 21 states with 206 electoral votes, and five states with 70 electoral votes divided 59 between the candidates.

Newsweek Magazine, basing its verdict on the reports of 40 political writers throughout the country, puts the President at 249 electoral votes, Dewey's 247, and looks to Pennsylvania's 35 votes to decide the election.

The Crossley Poll, giving Roosevelt 52 per cent of the popular vote after trying to estimate service vote, says the President would get 354 electoral votes, Dewey's 177 if slight indications in doubtful states are borne out.

DDT, Wartime Insect Killer, Not Yet Ready for Civilians

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—DDT—the so-called wonder insect-killer of this war—is not yet ready for civilian use.

There are two good reasons: Because military needs are so large there is not enough for civilians now; the government still is experimenting to determine DDT's poisonous effects on man, insect and plant.

Industry is doing a lot of experimenting with it, too, for use as an insect killer in homes after the war. For instance: Fly sprays, moth proofing, an insect repellent in paints, and protection for pets.

DDT had been in use for months before the Army announced its development. Early last summer it was credited with having checked typhus.

But officials say it is not yet practical for civilians to attempt malarial mosquito control with DDT.

The War Production Board says DDT still is the best insect-killer found, but there are quite a few varieties, apparently, which it won't kill. And that's the hitch. Experiments have found also that some trees treated with DDT dropped foliage and fruit prematurely.

One of the top research men of the Public Health Service said yesterday that certain tests—for instance, in dusting cloths—offer no serious health consequences. But the experiments must go on before DDT hits the market.

Navy Group Tops War Fund Quota

Hundreds of volunteer workers gathered at the Boston City Club today for the second report luncheon of the Greater Boston United War Fund and to hear a stirring tribute paid the 16 United Nations. The goal for the campaign is $7,650,000 to be raised before Nov. 22.

Guest speaker was Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechoslovakian minister plenipotentiary, with noted musicians of many nations providing a musical program.

At the same time, officials announced the Naval Radio Training School, 18 Boylston st., had been the first naval group to go over the top, contributing 200 per cent of its goal.

Pneumonia Fatal To Fr. Buckley

The Rev. Patrick J. Buckley, 73, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Berkshire st., Cambridge, died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he had been for a week. Death was caused by bronchial pneumonia.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed but Fr. Buckley's body will lie in state at the church next Sunday with solemn high mass of requiem set for Monday.

Fr. Buckley served as curate at the Immaculate Conception Church, Newburyport, for 25 years and then was appointed pastor of St. Mary's Church, Scituate, where he served for 10 years.

Thirteen years ago he was transferred to St. Patrick's Church, where he had been pastor ever since.

Survivors include his sister, Mrs. Mary Twomey of Lawrence, one niece and three nephews.

Rev. T. J. Broderick Funeral Monday

A solemn requiem mass for Rev. Thomas J. Broderick, 51, senior curate of Sacred Heart Parish, West Lynn, will be celebrated Monday at 10 a. m. at Sacred Heart Church, with Rev. Francis X. Sallaway officiating. Among those present will be Archbishop-elect Cushing.

Fr. Broderick, who died at Carney Hospital after an illness of two weeks, was born in Peabody, was graduated from Holy Cross in 1915 and was ordained five years later. He had served at Sacred Heart Church for 16 years.

Soong Explains Stilwell Row

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 3 (AP)—Foreign Minister T. V. Soong denied today reports of American pressure for a solution of China's Communist problem and predicted a new deal in relations between China and the United States.

Soong opened an interview with a written statement in which he stressed the declaration the recall of Gen. Stilwell was "entirely a question of personality."

In discussion he said Chiang Kai-shek and the former commander-in-chief of U. S. forces in the China-Burma-India theater did not like each other, and could not work together. He said this relationship dated from the first year of Stilwell's stay in China.

He emphasized no "difference in policy" between China and the United States was involved.

Soong's written statement first critical Chinese comment to be made since Stilwell's recall, said, in part:

"The recall of Gen. Stilwell... has nothing to do with any difference of policy between China and the United States.

"On the contrary, when Maj. Gen. Patrick Hurley and Donald Nelson came to confer with my government on closer military, political and economic co-operation, complete agreement was reached between us...

"Far from any rift developing between China and the United States, I believe that from now on relations between the two countries will be more understanding, more intimate and more fruitful than ever before."

British Move To Snub Stilwell

LONDON, Nov. 3 (XNS)—A move to declare Gen. Joseph Stilwell persona non grata in any war theater where British officers and men are serving was instituted in the British Parliament today. Reginald Purbrick, Conservative member of Parliament, filed notice of intention to ask Foreign Secretary Eden "whether, in view of Gen. Stilwell's reports the Indian army is inert and its officers lacking in morale he proposes to indicate to the U. S. Government that this officer is persona non grata where British army troops are engaged."

Polish Priests of U. S. Urge Halt to Russia's Land Grab

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 3—Rep. John W. McCormack's recent charge that Gov. Dewey is making the Polish question a political issue was assailed today by Roman Catholic priests here in a strongly-worded statement which also attacked Winston Churchill's secret diplomacy concerning Poland.

The statement was issued by Rev. A. A. Stoniecki in behalf of the Polish Roman Catholic Clergy Ass'n, a national organization. It asserted that the Polish problem "can reflect on the elections, but is not bait for voters of Polish extraction."

Fr. Stoniecki said the United States and Great Britain should demand that Russia stop her present policy of attempting to grab Polish lands. He branded the recently-named London representative of the Moscow Polish Committee of National Liberation a "Russian-bred Quisling."

All Polish priests in the United States are members of the association with the exception of Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski of this city, who made a highly-publicized trip to Moscow to see Stalin earlier this year.

Franco Tightens Grip; Plans Royalty Return

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—American and foreign diplomats here today confirmed reports Generalissimo Franco has tightened his controls in Spain, as an aftermath of recent disturbances in the northern provinces.

Possibility of a return of the monarchy has thus been delayed, said an informed source who reported Franco's aim to be re-establishment of royalty.

Walsh

his decision to stick to his guns and refuse to make a radio address last night in behalf of Roosevelt and Truman.

The time, over WBZ, was filled by former Cong. Joseph E. Casey, also a Clinton resident, without any explanation by the Democrats.

It was pointed out that Walsh, about question the foremost Democrat in Massachusetts, simply will be present on the platform and offer little more tomorrow night.

William H. Burke, Jr., Democratic state chairman, will open the meeting, former Cong. Casey will preside and President Roosevelt will be introduced by Cong. John W. McCormack.

It was quite apparent to Bay State veteran political observers that Sen. Walsh is playing the role of prima donna—somewhat aloof in the wings while the second fiddle's job has been taken over by the President.

In his sole comment on the tempest that has so upset Massachusetts democracy, Sen. Walsh said today:

"There are many persons in Massachusetts and the nation who associate my name with something more than was implied by the loose term isolationist."

"Many mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, wives and sweethearts know my name and my record as standing against sending those dear to them to suffering and death on foreign battle fields."

"If this be 'isolationism,' I guess I am an isolationist."

One of the biggest men in the party here—one whose voice will be heard with Roosevelt's at Fenway Park tomorrow night—termed the Truman slur one of the most unfortunate political blunders committed for many years.

Meanwhile, it was announced that motor tours through Massachusetts by the President had been called off. No explanation was given.

Instead, the Roosevelt party will make its first stop at Springfield, where he will address a platform audience, and halt at Worcester only long enough for Sen. Walsh to board the special train.

The President will remain on the train in conferences and rest until he leaves for his speech at Fenway Park. The train is expected to pull into Boston about 5 p. m. The President will leave for Fenway Park at 9 o'clock.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt made a radio appeal from the White House for Democrats to beware of "hysterical, last-minute political whispers."

"This campaign has been marred by more than the usual crop of whisperings and rumors," he said. "I do not propose to answer in kind."

"Hysterical, last-minute accusations or sensational revelations are trumped up in an attempt to panic the people on election day," he said.

"But the American people are not panicked easily."

"This election will be settled on the basis of the record."

On the general wide field of the campaign, the President said:

War—"Our advance toward Japan is many months ahead of our own optimistic schedule, the result of planning and organization."

Peace—"It would be a sorry and cynical thing to betray this hope for the sake of mere political advantage."

Foreign affairs—"I have spent many fruitful hours talking with men from the more remote nations. It is only through an understanding acquired by years of consultation that one can get a viewpoint of their problems and their innate yearnings for freedom."

Domestic affairs—"By carrying out the plans we have made we can avoid a postwar depression. We can provide employment for our veterans and our war workers—we can achieve an orderly reconstruction. I look forward, under the leadership of this government, to an era of expansion and production and employment, to new industries and increased security."

Speaking on the same program, Chairman Hannegan asserted from New York that the Republican party has tried to divert the people from the real issues of the campaign by "a campaign of division and disunity, of falsehood and bigotry."

"With cunning and malice," he declared, "they have spread a vast network of lies—lies conceived in hate and intolerance. We can not build a better America on such a foundation. But upon the foundation of achievement, confidence and courage—which President Roosevelt has laid we can and will build a better America."

Navy Issues Call For Draftsmen

Engineering draftsmen are critically needed in Washington and San Francisco, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today. Applicants are requested to report at Room 1030, Federal Building, where a Navy representative will conduct interviews for the next few days.

The most urgent need is for naval architects, engineers and draftsmen to serve at the Hunters Point naval drydocks in San Francisco.

The jobs pay from $3100 to $3800 annually, overtime included. Transportation is furnished, and housing arranged for those accepted and their families.

Find 2 Slain Men in Ditch

McPHERSON, Kan., Nov. 3 (AP)—Two bodies, each shot three times through the back of the head and tossed into a roadside ditch, were found yesterday to end a week-long search—and to start another hunt, this time for the killers.

A search had been conducted for the two men, Dr. M. E. Lambert, 31, a Canton, Kan., osteopath, and Cpl. Charles Nipper, 21, since Monday. That's the last day they were seen alive, and that's the day Dr. Lambert's bloodstained car was found near here.

The men's billfolds were missing, but jewelry and change had been passed up.

Nipper, who had been stationed at the Smoky Hill Army air field near Salina, was last seen entering a car similar to Lambert's at a roadside shelter near Wichita.

Soldier Killed After Reunion With Brother

Play With Death

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—Police are searching for 16 live hand grenades they believe are being used as toys by children who picked them up near Fort Bliss.

Capt. J. E. Stowe said a mother reported yesterday she found her youngster playing with a grenade. He told her other youngsters throughout the city were similarly equipped.

Stowe said the grenades have economic importance for the children. They trade them for cash or marbles.

Lopes to Appeal In McGrath Case

BROCKTON, Nov. 3—Atty. Antonio J. Cardozo, counsel for Jack Lopes of Scituate, announced today he would go to the Supreme Court on a bill of exceptions to fight the conviction of his client on charges of obstructing justice in the Frances McGrath murder case.

Lopes and Mrs. Bertha Pina, his self-confessed sweetheart, were found guilty by a Plymouth County superior court jury of concealing the whereabouts of the girl's body for three days.

Lopes was sentenced to six months at hard labor. Mrs. Pina received a six-month suspended sentence and was placed on probation.

Sentence of Lopes was stayed and he was released in $25,000 cash bail.

Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing disclosed he was considering action against the pair on another indictment charging them as accessories after the fact in the case.

'Hex' Woman Sent to Prison

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 3 (AP).—A jury ruled that Carolann Smith, central figure in the Tulsa "Hex House" case, was sane. Judge Leslie Webb formally sentenced her to a year in prison for subornation of perjury.

Mrs. Smith's attorney asked for the sanity hearing after a jury convicted her on a charge that she induced two women office workers living with her in a fashionable apartment to testify falsely in a police case.

The women, Nell Horner and Virginia Evans, testified that Mrs. Smith exercised such a strong mental power over them that they gave her their entire earnings for six years and lived in virtual slavery while she held forth in luxury.

Single Plates Only On Cars in 1945

Answering many requests from motorists to keep their old plates on the front of their cars next year, Motor Vehicle Registrar Rudolph F. King announced today that only the single plate, on the rear of cars, will be allowed in 1945.

King said the policy of issuing replacement plates to drivers who lose their originals will be discontinued, and instead temporary paper plates would be issued where needed from Dec. 1 to Jan. 1, 1945.

Paris Doctor Under Arrest As Wholesale Acid Slayer

PARIS, Nov. 3 (INS)—Dr. Marcel Petiot, accused murderer whose victims allegedly were dissolved in acid, was under arrest today.

He was wearing the uniform of a captain in the French Forces of the Interior when arrested.

Petiot is accused of the murder of a number of persons alleged to have been lured to his laboratory and, after death, placed in a bath of sulphuric acid. In addition, he is accused of having killed patriots on instructions from the Gestapo.

Petiot insisted he was innocent of any crimes attributed to him, saying he had no idea how the remains of bodies discovered in his laboratory came to be there.

He declared the Gestapo invented the charges of murder against him to conceal their own misdeeds.

Reuters said police officials expressed belief the number of victims would never be known, though 45 suitcases filled with women's clothing were said to have been found in the doctor's house.

Paris Wood Shoes Ruin Women's Feet

By LORELLE HEARST

Special Correspondent, Boston Evening American

PARIS, Nov. 3—Clipperty clop clop clop. This is the noise of Paris drawing rooms.

French shoe designers have ruined French women's feet and their carriage—and it is not their fault. It is just one of those things the poor girls here have to put up with.

There is no leather, so in order to keep French girls walking, French shoe designers have produced wooden sabots in all kinds of shapes and descriptions, but all heavy. For wood is the basic material of French shoes today.

Beautiful women who once were accustomed to glide smoothly across Parisian drawing rooms advance with a clipperty clop clop clop like a Sherman tank down the Champs Elysees in their staid horses in the Bronx.

And I am sorry!

For ever since I can remember I was told women's feet should be seen and not heard. They should be beautifully shod, but inconspicuous.

Feet at their best are ugly, but if dressed properly they are a part of woman which can be lovely. All men love and admire pretty feet and legs.

Little girls in the United States are taught at a very early age in their lives that they must walk gracefully, that they must enter a room carrying themselves well to give the impression of beauty.

They are taught to point their toes when sitting and to sit gracefully to prove to everyone in the room that they have pretty feet. Today, no mother in Paris wastes this kind of education on her daughter, since sabots rule the day.

These shoes are hideous. They are wedges in their worst form.

I have never liked platform shoes, for I feel that women's feet should have dainty shoes which fit like a glove, making their feet look as small as possible.

These French shoes are exaggerated at the toe. They have soles at least four or five inches thick, they all open at the back and the heels are higher than any heels I have ever seen.

The Paris hats are too large and heavy. They are hard to handle, for some look like flowered stovepipes and others like colossal turbans, bigger than rajahs ever wore.

What is most terrible about these hats is that the French girl who goes out on her bicycle—whatever the weather may be—to keep a date, finds that this type of hat is hard to handle for her.

Since bicycling became the best way to move about here, women only wear hats in the house, for swift pedalling damages dainty hats.

Women look topmost. The worst feature of these dreadful hats is that they do them over the remaining glory of women called by hair.

Don't misunderstand me about this large hat. I don't like large hats, but these hats are no hat.

The employment of the hat designers in any other situation does not help the French girl. As they ride bicycles up and down the streets you see signs of every kind of feminine ingenuity and resourcefulness.

Some bicycles pedaled by beautiful women have a basket on one side for a hat and on the other side for a handbag.

On other bicycles Ma pedals in front and parks her two-year-old infant in the basket behind.

And now for a more important point—how are the stockings doing here?

Well, stockings are scarce like they are back with you.

They are gold, so they are protected.

On windy, rainy days, girls clip little gaiters in front of their stockings to protect them from mud and keep their legs warm.

NO VIOLETS

THE hopeful person who wants to find the celebrated modest violet which hangs its head in sublime humility to avoid attention and admiration should not wear out his rationed shoes on Beacon Hill; he is more apt to find sunflowers there.

This is the conclusion many a Massachusetts voter will reach next Tuesday when he reads the questions on his ballot.

Various members of the Legislature, not addicted to head-hanging, believe the Constitution is wrong when it says the Governor is the only official who may pardon convicted criminals. They want to grant pardons, too. They are sure they can do a much better job.

So, in Question No. 2, these legislators say in effect: "Take the pardoning authority away from the Governor and give it to us."

What a wonderful thing that would be for the politicians. None would have to go to the Governor to get a friend or a friend's friend out of prison. The politician could accomplish the freeing himself.

Soon, perhaps, it might be necessary to take down the locked gates at Charlestown and install a set of revolving doors. Or, possibly, the Boston "El" could be persuaded to run special buses to accommodate the absolved felons.

But the people will not be deceived by the artful phraseology of Question No. 2. They will register an overwhelming "no" plurality and thus keep the pardoning power in the Governor's hands and the criminals in prison.

This arrangement cost them a whole year's salary.

Under it, membership in the General Court could no longer be looked upon as a full-time job.

In some instances, legislators were obliged to obtain supplementary employment, such as work in defense factories, arsenals and shipyards, where there is small opportunity for anyone to bask in his own glory or to make political hay.

So, in Question No. 3, the grieved gentlemen are asking the voters kindly to put the Legislature back on the old annual sessions plan.

A detailed explanation follows Question No. 3, apparently to enlighten the ballot recipient and to help him reach a decision.

Unfortunately, this explanation says nothing about the proven benefits of biennial sessions and makes no mention of the fact that they have resulted in better government at less cost, more home rule for cities and towns, fewer and wiser laws, less political turmoil and a long overdue moratorium on bondogging, particularly in election years.

But, contrary to the wishes of the political sunflowers, no such salesmanship is needed. Six years' experience has convinced the people of Massachusetts that biennial sessions are the key to sane, sensible and orderly government.

THERE is a grave suspicion that Question No. 3 has been ingeniously worded to beguile persons into voting "yes" when they mean "no."

If the writers had been less evasive, they would have asked: "Do you want Massachusetts to continue to be as progressive as the forty-three other states which also have biennial sessions?"

Most people do. And for that reason, all of them should read Question No. 3 carefully and then vote "NO."

On the Side By E. V. Durling

Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Into our hearts came a baby today,

A sweet little wisp and so fair.

God grant her the grace to find love in all things

Like flowers and birds and the rain;

Teach her that life holds a debt to be paid,

She must weep a wee bit and then smile sweet again.

Wrap her, dear God, in Thy love so divine,

Oh, protect her while she's under Thy care,

For Thine is the power and glory, O Lord.

While mine is just her grand-daddy's prayer.

—JOSEPH DONNELLY.

AUTHOR OF the above describes himself as "just an old flatfoot." He is a retired policeman. His poem was written in honor of the arrival of a new granddaughter, Kathleen Donnelly . . .

Heard a feminine café patron say: "I just adore hamburgers." This is the female language at its worst. Hamburgers are fine but hardly the subject for adoration. Another favorite word of the females is "thrilling." This brings to mind the case of two young matrons of Manhattan. One said: "I have a new maid coming today."

Said the other: "How thrilling!" What are you going to wear?

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Am asked who was the smallest player in the history of major college football. I think it was Pishon, Dartmouth quarterback, who weighed 125 pounds.

Pishon was killed in action in World War I . . . Every time it rains our doc looks at the rain and then looks at me and growls. He wants me to turn off the rain. This is because he has seen me turn off the shower bath. Anyway, that's how I figure out his strange conduct.

PASSING BY: Kathleen Winsor, glamorous novelist. Perpetrator of "Forever Amber."

She is married to U. S. McC. Lt. Bob Herwig, former University of California football star.

Kathleen and Bob first met on the Berkeley campus, which is reported to have been the scene of more romances ending in matrimony than any other college campus . . . Tom Gallery, Proh-bah of the Brooklyn Tigers professional football team. Tom was once a movie actor. He was also the first husband of the best cook in the Hollywood film colony. I am referring, of course, to ZaSu Pitts. ZaSu likes to cook so much she gets angry when her husband doesn't bring at least three pals for dinner.

ASIDES: Note it stated that Dorothy Kilgallen's favorite dish is moo goo guy pan. Don't know exactly what that is, but I think it is a kind of Chinese bubble and squeak . . .

"You say no All-American football player has had a son who made the All-American team," writes a Chicagoan.

"How about Henry Miller, Notre Dame 1910, who made Walter Camp's All-American team, and his son, Creighton Miller of Notre Dame, likewise honored in 1931?" (Note: Henry Miller was not named for Camp's first All-American team, but for the second team.)

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—How is the We Wanna Get a Divorce Club doing lately? A—Seems to be doing all right but the membership is decreasing. Most of the girls in the club are now married. In fact, two of them have written this department stating they are starting a We Wanna Get a Divorce Club. Time

Q—In an argument I claimed that during World War I, when the boys went to war, they marched down Fifth ave. And when they returned they marched up Fifth ave. How about it? A—You have it right.

SLEEP, ETC.: What type of mattress is best for inducing peaceful sleep? Would like to hear from some experts on this.

We have just been inveigled into purchasing some mattresses at a fancy price. The man said they were wonderful. Being an innocent young couple we believed him. I never slept on a harder mattress in my life.

Like sleeping on a park bench. When we sawked, the man who sold the mattresses blithely said all they needed was "a little softening up." Guess we will have to borrow a couple of elephants to break these mattresses in. Next to a poor breakfast, nothing makes me more sultry than a bad night's sleep.

PLEASE NOTE: Hollywoodians are reported as poking a bit of fun at Warner brothers for putting so many mystery stories on the production schedule. Those Warner boys have never been dumb. One-third of the fiction now read in the U. S. is of mystery story variety.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1944, by King Features Synd., Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—Tom Dewey recently said that nowadays, the problem of the people in judging news from the White House was not whether it was good or bad but whether it was true or false.

In this he challenged not merely the veracity of a rival candidate for office but the morality, the character, of the most influential elective official in the nation. For, if as Dewey said, President Roosevelt is intentionally untruthful then his morals are bad. And, inasmuch as moral currents emanate from the character of the President and affect his administration, then, if the President is dishonest, tricky and cynical, the morals of the people and the national character must suffer.

It is not only by laws, enforced by policemen, that a moral people are moved to maintain decent standards in their relations between themselves and their government. A finer force, a product of civilization, operates here.

For a decisive test of Roosevelt's veracity we need proceed no further in his reign than his first Presidency in which he soon repudiated and violated every persuasive promise on which he had been elected.

Economy, which he had promised, became a fabulous program of aims under political control extending down into the very precincts.

The bureaucracy which he had condemned in the Hoover Administration was multiplied to make places for his political following.

THAT MUCH being established by citations which could be multiplied a thousand times, how have his actions affected the morals of the people and their confidence in the integrity of their government?

A few nights ago, Roosevelt said with the note of a snarl in his delivery, that some Republicans now were threatening, in the event of defeat, to refuse to co-operate with him in the building of the peace. They would risk total calamity for partisan political advantage. But what did he do in a similar case, in the interim between his first election and his inauguration?

Hoover begged him to co-operate to avert the bank panic but Roosevelt and the New Deal brain trust hilariously taunted the now powerless chief of an expiring and discredited regime and went away.

Merely to humiliate Hoover and create counterfeit political capital which they have used ever since, they invited the panic and all its consequences for all the people.

They were flippant and frivolous and siding high and to them the juvenile, exultant fun of mocking a sombre and unpopular man was worth all the suffering imposed on millions of others. Yet, ever since, they have profited by the public impression that this panic was not Roosevelt's and wrought intentionally but Hoover's and due to his reactionary stupidity.

THE MORALITY of Roosevelt, himself, was revealed again in his court-packing plan. I could go to the files and cite editorial comments from papers now supporting him for a fourth term, which denounced him in terms as contemptuous that they could not today support him in a petition for a parole from prison, were they consistent.

The public, which usually grasps only the larger facts of a situation, still believes this was a scheme to pack only the Supreme Court. At was much worse. IT WAS A PLAN TO ORGANIZE A CORPS OF NEW DEAL JUDGES IN THE FEDERAL DISTRICT COURTS AND TO ASSIGN THESE NEW APPOINTEES, AND ONLY THEM, TO CASES IN WHICH THE NEW DEAL HAD A POLITICAL OR IDEOLOGICAL INTEREST.

Judges already on the Federal District bench were not to be so assigned. His own new appointees would be chosen for their reliability.

THE ROBERTS report on Pearl Harbor, while convicting two high commanders without trial, indicated Roosevelt had a share of the fault. Yet he has smothered the two service inquiries and suppressed the reports until after election.

Have the people's morals, their sense of honor, been so far corrupted by this influence from on high, flowing through the nation's bloodstream all these years, that they see no wrong on at worst, only amiable mischief, in such conduct?

Substituting for Louella O. Parsons, Who Is on Vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 3—Veronica Lake, the new Little Miss Goody Two Shoes, doesn't mind starting work immediately in "Good Intentions" because that means the picture should be finished before the holidays. Ronnie expects to become Mrs. Andre De Toth Dec. 11.

But the lady's enthusiasm is not only for private and personal reasons but for professional as well. First, she gets Eddie Bracken for her co-star, and Eddie is going great guns right now. Yes, he makes this one before moving over to Warners for that outside film. "Good Intentions" is a comedy, but along the thrill lines. Veronica plays an amateur jewel thief and Eddie her unwilling and bewildered accomplice. George Marshall directs and Paul Jones produces.

MERVIN LE ROY and Frank Ross may change their minds about their original intention of having unknowns in "The Robe." Chief influence for the switch is the enormous amount of mail coming in begging for Ingrid Bergman to play Diana. Thousands of questionnaires have come out from the Messrs. Le Roy and Ross asking the fans their favorite moments in the book and which players they would like to see in the roles. Bergman leads by a bushel. Of course, there is still the little matter of desiring with David Selznick, who holds her contract. Ingrid, herself, has long been enthused about the idea.

GEORGE BRENT, who signed with Bill Goetz's International Company months ago, gets his first home base assignment making love to Claudette Colbert in "Tomorrow Is Forever." Unless some bright-eyed character remembers differently, I believe this is the first picture Brent and Colbert have ever made together, although both are Hollywood veterans. Goetz has also set Irving Pichel to direct the Gwen Bristow novel, which David Lewis will produce.

NOW THAT Bob Hope has balked on "My Favorite Brunette," Paulette Goddard is free to accept another assignment, and it turns out to be the title role in "The Well-Groomed Bride" with Ray Milland. The Robert Russell comedy centers around the tug-of-war between a San Francisco debutante and a young Navy officer to obtain the last bottle of champagne in Frisco. The bride wants it for her wedding supper. The officer wants it to christen a new ship. There's another male role almost equal to Milland's, which makes "The Well-Groomed Bride" a very star-studded movie.

SIDE-LINES: Don't bet too much that Joseph Cotten has the star spot tied up in "So Little Time." He may not even be in it. . . . Dennis O'Keefe has a good idea—the establishment of a club for struggling young actors similar to the famed Hollywood studio club for girls. Says that when the war is over there will be plenty of kids around who will need a helping hand and a cheap, decent place to live. Dennis used to be an extra himself, so he knows how it goes. . . . Harry James has been calling from New Jersey to get reports on the condition of Victoria Elizabeth James, who was stung on the nose by a bee. . . . Jane Withers' show, "Glad to See You," opens in Philadelphia before taking on New York. . . . Add Richard Himber to the list of frustrated house hunters. He's trying to find a place so he can bring his wife and baby on from the East

. . . Just to keep the record straight, Universal says Maria Montez will not be loaned out to Columbia or any other studio. They've got plans of their own for baby.

THE M-G-M radio exec., who tuned in on the radio skit "The Man Who Couldn't Lose," said to himself, "That's a swell story for John Hodiak and now Melvyn owns it." Funny part is that Gene Kelly, also one of the company's heroes, was doing the broadcasting. But Gene is due for the service any day now, so the yarn about the salesman who constructs the perfect crime and then runs into so much accidental good luck that it almost throws his scheme out of gear falls to Hodiak.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Virginia Peine, (Mrs. Quentin Reynolds) goes into a new Mike Todd show which will keep her busy after Quent leaves for an overseas assignment right after election; Judy Garland says: "I don't know whether the boys wear 200 suits—but they're sure got a beat fleet"; had to look twice to see it was Virginia Bruce under a big black hat dining with Fefe Ferry; down in Mexico City, Arturo de Cordova was presented with a gold medal because of the good will he's created between his country and the U. S. A.—not counting Lupe Velez, of course; the Evelyn Ankens-Richard Denning baby named Diana; ever hear of a sket that plays a tune? Yvonne Carlo wears one in "Salome Where She Danced" that beats out eight bars of a Strauss Waltz.

JOHAN SPOWES' visit to Dorothy McGuire on "The Enchanted Cottage" set makes the piece even more enchanting to the lady; there's a rumor that producer Henry Blanke, late of Warners, may go with Hal Wallis late of Warners; Gypsy Esé Lee's ex, Alexander Kirkland, is in town for the first time in years; have only the kid's word for it, but Marva Lwin, wife of Joe, says they are set to take up happy married life again when he gets out of uniform; Diana Lynn and Robert Walker a mighty cute couple as the Baltimore Bowl; Dick Fowle entertains the kids at the North Hollywood Civic Club Saturday night. This is the club whose whole aim is to keep the kids off the streets.

TOMORROW IS the second anniversary of the death of George M. Cohan, and out of the woodwork has emerged recently an assortment of disparagers of the Yankee Doodle Dandy who never dared criticize the author of "Over There" when he was among the quick . . . The "sneak" brethren rioted and resented the great Cohan, who never wrote a "dirty" line in his long, distinguished career of writing . . . A book by a New York publisher of "liberal" authors is the newest raconteur to take a four-page dig at George M. Cohan's memory will be green and dear to his countrymen when the publisher and most of his ideological writing—"stars" are underground in the "revolt" which Clifton Fadiman (according to Westbrook Pegler) has predicted for the days after the country awakes to the need of a "time for a change" . . . Next Tuesday perhaps?

THE RADIO, incidentally, does not seem to forget George M. Cohan . . . A memorial program, featuring some of George's deathless American tunes, will be airwaved over WEEI at 4:30 tomorrow . . . Evelyn Howes will interview some friend of the late Mr. Cohan's, possibly, this one if violent mike-fright doesn't win overnight . . . Fancying ourselves a weather prophet, bear with us until we predict—in spite of the mildness of the weather reports—a drastic change within 48 hours . . . A nor-east storm, snow, a freeze—something. Maybe even a thunderstorm. Sheldon Fairbanks will get a chuckle out of the prediction . . . When Sheldon was racing a stable of horses, he was courteous enough to abide by our forecast once in entering a four-star mudcat . . . It came up weather clear, track fast.

THEY CALLED THAT ring-around-the-Roosevelt business featuring Orson Welles, Quentin Reynolds, Mark Van Doren and John Gunther a "forum" . . . Political sharps are taking advantage of the benefit bestowed by the rad-dio in making it necessary to advertise a political broadcast just twice, once at the beginning and again at the end . . . In the newspapers, the slug "political advertisement" must appear over every column . . . The half hour verbal clam-bake operated by the Welles, Reynolds, Van Doren and Gunther quartet could have been heard for 28 minutes of its 30-minute length by listeners mistaking it for the free, uninspired, unpaid-for and impartial exchange of views by four highly-publicized citizens . . . But its very one-sidedness and passionate bias would make the participants suspect.

OF RECENT BOSTON shows, "Violet" flopped immediately, and "No Way Out" was slaughtered by the critics.

Beauty

Exercises for the Neck

Fashion

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

A WOMAN IS NEITHER "too young nor too old" to have a slim, firm, graceful column between her head and shoulders . . . and this season it is imperative that the connecting beauty link between her face and body be both spirited and beautiful . . . so that decreed throat jewelry may be advantageously displayed. A series of throat calisthenics to pursue at home to mould and firm the neck is yours for the asking.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

UNLESS YOU HAVE a spirited neck . . . you won't be able to wear the choker necklaces . . . the jeweled dog collars . . . the muffling stoles . . . wrapped scarfs . . . and most decidedly not the turtle sweaters . . . since this season's fashions are closing in around the throat. While good posture is an absolute necessity . . . a slim, firm column between your head and shoulders is a positive must.

There isn't anything in the beauty line quite so discouraging as trying to subtract a chin or two and making them one . . . or firming a flabby, sagging chin-line. But . . . it can be done. And, definitely you won't be able to wear and wear well the new neck accents both in fashions and in jewelry if your connecting beauty link between your face and your body is anything but beautiful . . . if it is fleshy and too full . . . or too scrawny and too hollow.

The supreme elegance of a classic throat column can be developed by throatline calisthenics . . . bolstered up by lubricating creams and wrinkle discouragers. For once past 30 it takes more than good posture to keep your throatline young. You have to exercise for muscle tone . . . apply creams for a soft, smooth skin . . . and call on your will power to make your neck and throat routine a beautifying habit. That's why it's important to start young.

SECRET TO EXERCISE SUCCESS

There's a secret to exercising the throat muscles effectively and this is it . . . slowly tense all muscles as the movements are performed . . . maintain the tension throughout the movement . . . and afterward slowly but completely relax the muscles.

We have devised a series of throat and chin moulding exercises which you can pursue in the privacy of your bedroom. They are for a sagging chin and relaxed throat . . . for reducing double chin . . . and for moulding scrawny throats and hollow necks.

Simple calisthenics to perform they will more repay your efforts . . . and you'll be proud to hold your head high for that personality plus throat jewelry accessory.

You may have the neck and throat beautifying exercises for home pursuit. If you write me, care of the Beauty Dept., Boston Evening American, can, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

STUNNING CHIC and so easy to wear is this Adion-designed clothes study in black and white . . . what a dramatist! Like Chase wears in her "In Bed We Cry" footlight presentation. A high-necked, long-sleeved white blouse effect . . . glittering with frontal decoration of gold paillettes . . . and a pencil-slim skirt with black drapes and fullness makes this gown a symphony of girlish smartness. We expect there will be many copies.—R. M.

What Lunch Boxes Need

By MARTHA LEE

LUNCH BOXES aren't such a bore to prepare or to consume if a few preliminary plans are made for their eating pleasure. One thing is certain and that is that lunches may be made interesting, enjoyable and nutritious by keeping these few points in mind while preparing.

Be sure to have:
Something moist or juicy.
Something chewy—raw fruit or vegetable.
Something to give zest, as fruit or salad dressing.

Lunch attractive—use waxed paper and paper napkins.
On top food to be eaten first.
A little surprise, such as a stuffed prune, olives, a few nuts, stuffed celery, or a piece of candy.

Something hot in cold weather.
Variety in bread.
Sandwiches thin and filling thick.

Since the lunch that is carried generally includes sandwiches they are our first consideration. But are some filling suggestions that may prove helpful.

1—Vegetables—Uncooked with or without dressing: Tomato, sliced; carrot, ground or grated; spinach, shredded or chopped; lettuce; cabbage, shredded; parsley; peppers.

2—Fruit—Apple sliced with skin on may be dipped in slightly salted water, or in lemon juice to keep color; or apple ground, unpeeled, with ½ cup raw raisins and 1 cup cooked prunes; or grind 1 cup cooked prunes and ¼ cup raisins, and add 1 tsp. lemon juice. Prunes or figs, cooked, may be spread between slices of dark buttered bread.

3—Eggs—Hardcooked or scrambled, with salad dressing. Celery, cabbage, chopped, or shredded spinach, lettuce, endive, or other green leaves may be added, or bacon, crisp, chopped.

4—Peanut Butter—Softened with salad oil, milk, cream, or salad dressing. For variety and flavor add carrots, grated; raisins, raw, chopped; prunes, cooked, chopped; apple, raw, sliced or ground.

5—Meat—Sliced, chopped or ground, with or without dressing. May be added to ground meat may be added chopped pickle, olive, celery, or cabbage.

6—Fish—Cooked or canned. Flake and mix with salad dressing and cucumber, sliced or chopped, or cabbage, celery, pickle, or olive chopped.

7—Liver Spread—1 cup cooked, ground liver moistened with salad dressing. To this may be added:

2 tsp. gra. of onion, or
2 tsp. finely cut chives, or
1 tsp. minced parsley, or
1 tsp. chopped pickle.

8—Cheese—American, sliced or grated and mixed with salad dressing. Cottage or cream cheese may be mixed with dried chopped fruit, raw apple, sliced or ground; dried ground fruit, marmalade or jelly.

9—If bread is well flavored and moist, a delicious sandwich is made with butter or reinforced margarine. If bread is home-made it may be varied by adding eggs, molasses, dried fruit, nuts, candied orange peel, and by the use of different flours.

If there is no cafeteria available at noontime, something hot carried in a thermos bottle is a welcome addition. Here are some suggestions:

A hot cup of chowder, making use of vegetables whenever possible: Vegetable soup, chowder made with dried beans or peas, vegetable chowder, fish chowder.

Cocoa
A casserole dish.
Vegetables: With white sauce, with meat, with fish, with cheese.

Creamed dishes: Vegetables, eggs on toast, dried beef on toast, fish.

AS I RODE DOWNTOWN in a taxicab, my driver entertained me greatly by making grave political observations really worthy of some of our best politicians.

Looking straight ahead, he suddenly said: "I will either be a landslide for the President which will carry everyone else with him, or it will be a landslide the other way and we will be completely Republican." I burst out laughing, because it sounded like so many of the prophecies and pols which are constantly being quoted. The only answer I could think of was: "Well, I imagine we have to wait until the votes are counted on election day."

NOW THAT HOLLAND is gradually being liberated, one of the things which many of us were interested in before the war will assume even greater importance.

Before the war, the Netherlands-American Foundation, in collaboration with the Amsterdam Chamber of Commerce and The Hague, had established a fund large enough to exchange five students a year, and the University of Leyden, during its summer session, conducted a one-week's course in Dutch civilization for American students.

It is hoped that this beginning in good cultural relationships between the two countries will become more active in the post-war period.

On Dec. 5, the Foundation is giving a concert at the Metropolitan Opera House for the Hendrick Willem Van Loon Scholarship Fund. The money raised will go to support the interchange of Netherlands and American students, and the concert will pay special tribute to the courage of the Dutch people.

The Dutch conductor, Dr. Hans Krieger, will bring the National Symphony Orchestra from Washington to this occasion, and the soloists will be Helen Traubel, Metropolitan soprano, and Egon Petri, pianist.

Glorified Apron Featured

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE apron takes its place with the tunic and the peplum in mid-winter styles as a feature of drossy models for winter parties. The purpose of all these things is to give more grace to skirts which are necessarily rather straight and narrow, and for the apron as one of the best of the three. It is becoming to any kind of figure, practically, which you can't say for the peplum or the tunic.

Fox Browne is a designing talent that uses the apron with telling effect on party dresses, and one of Browne's models with this feature is sketched. Made of black crepe, this day-length one-piece dress has very short sleeves and the little apron is also quite short. The whole front of the waist and apron are embroidered in blue, rose, green and other pastel-colored sequins.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q My son enlisted in the Navy and was sworn in last Aug. 7. He did not go on active duty until Aug. 31. When does this period of enlistment start, or what date will appear on his discharge? F. B. Dorchester.

A Aug 7 will appear for enlistment. Active duty began on the latter date.

Q Inquiring for my mother in regard to dental work, she needs two dental plates. I was told that she could get them through some government hospital or dental school, as one of my brothers is serving in the Army? A. G., South Boston.

A Army has no provisions to give such service. In the past a wife or child of a serviceman could obtain such medical service if they were unable to pay. But due to the great number of patients in hospitals and need for Army dentists in caring for soldier patients, that practice was discontinued.

Q My son has had a recent change of address overseas. Can you explain G. F. R. S., Repl. Pool? Will appreciate. W. M. Fannin.

A First four letters I cannot interpret, but Repl. Pool means he is at a replacement center from which he will be assigned to an outfit that is in need of men trained as he has been.

Q I am stationed at a hospital with a small detachment. My question is, how will the Demobilization Bill affect us? Most of us have physical ailments. Many have served overseas. The patients at the hospital are all discharged veterans. I was selected to write you this letter. Pvt. E. L. Rutland.

A Because of the shortage of help at Veterans Administration Hospitals it was necessary for the War Dept. to assign men not fit for combat duty to help out until necessary help available.

The Demobilization Bill is now in such a state that Army officials are unable to determine how it will affect men in your classification. A high Army official informed me, however, that if substitutes in Europe wound, you would be among the first to be released, under a plan which has not been made public and will not until the proper time.

Q Having been a veteran of the African campaign (battle of Oran and Algeria), I believe I am entitled to the Infantry Badge, discharge honorable. Where could I apply for it or get further information? J. B., Somerville.

A If you are eligible for the Infantry Badge, you may write Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C. Give serial number, discharge date and organization, with request for badge.

Q After being drafted into the Army I was assigned to Army Special Training School (University of Missouri). However, after four months I was given an honorable discharge because of childhood ailment. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay or G.I. Bill benefits? A. W., Newton.

A Sorry, but you are deprived of these benefits, having failed to serve the required 90 days' active duty.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

Abp. Cushing to Take Office Wednesday

Archbishop-elect Richard J. Cushing, D. D., will be elevated as head of the Metropolitan See of Boston Wednesday at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in a two-hour ceremony, one of the most beautiful rites of the Catholic Church.

At 9:45, archbishops and bishops from all parts of the nation will start the ceremonies, to be witnessed by clergy and members of religious orders and heard by thousands of others through a radio broadcast.

The new archbishop officially takes over his duties when Most Rev. Amato G. Cicognani, Apostolic delegate representing Pope Pius XII, escorts him to his throne and presents him with the crozier, staff of authority.

Officials of the diocese and the clergy then will come forward, kneel and kiss the ring of the new archbishop, symbolic act of obedience.

Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College, will broadcast the ceremonies in English over WNAC from 9:45 to 11:45 and over Mutual from 10 to 10:45.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah F. Minihan will read both in English and Latin the decree authorizing the accession of the new archbishop.

Archbishop Cushing then will chant the prayer in honor of the Holy Cross, to which the Cathedral is dedicated.

Why is Ed Lane up in the air?

BECAUSE he's down to earth about conserving coal. That's why he's putting up storm windows. He knows there will be some shortage of coal going to householders.

No less coal is being produced. More is being mined than ever before—with fewer men. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal to your city.

But certain grades of coal are going to be greatly in demand for war production. And, to make things worse, your local coal dealer faces a shortage in manpower, trucks and tires.

So if you want to keep warm this winter, do everything possible to conserve the coal you can get. The little, common-sense things you can do will make your coal pile go 10% further—and save that much on your fuel bill.

Install weatherstripping. Clean your furnace. Fire carefully, and avoid over-heating. Shut off unused rooms. Pull your shades low at night. For other suggestions, see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C & O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

Barbara Stanwyck on Air Advises Vote for Dewey

Special to the Boston Evening American

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Charming movie star Barbara Stanwyck voiced in Chicago a mandate from the women of America for the election of Gov. Dewey as President to restore "integrity in our government."

With her husband, Lt. Robert Taylor of the Navy and the films, at her side, Miss Stanwyck spoke over the Blue Network.

The popular actress said: "Women of America! It may be—it probably will be—our votes that decide the issue on Nov. 7. Let's make a mandate from the women, that there must be and shall be once again integrity in our government. In our hearts we know it is time for a change—and there will be a change—a healthy change, when we elect Thomas E. Dewey."

Quoting Gov. Dewey's Chicago speech in which he said, "The women of America have a special interest in this election," Miss Stanwyck added:

"I think he was absolutely right. Everywhere I go I meet women who, as they struggle with the problems of war living amid intense anxiety for their sons and brothers and husbands in the service, feel deeply the moral and spiritual aspects of the campaign."

"Many mothers and wives of men overseas are troubled beyond measure that America will not be worth coming home to unless there is a thorough house cleaning and more integrity in government."

"We resent with every atom of our beings the efforts which are being made by the Hillmans, the Browners, the Murrys and others to nullify the efforts of thousands of American boys."

"We see it as a threat to our liberties when the OWI wouldn't allow the following words to be included in a speech: 'While the war has made us accustomed to the condition of full employment, we cannot afford to forget that in 1940 there were 8,000,000 unemployed in this country.' Where is our freedom if a man isn't allowed to state that fact?"

O'Daniel Lays Riot at His Texas Rally to New Dealers

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—An egg was thrown, noses were reddened, eyes blackened, and heckling and booing lasted for 30 minutes of a speech here last night by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel (D) of Texas.

O'Daniel later said in a statement the disturbance had been arranged, "presumably on orders from Washington."

Despite the racket and the excitement, O'Daniel read his speech into a microphone which carried it by radio over the State.

He blamed the riot on "the Communists, labor leader racketeers, New Deal fellow travelers and lawless element which constitute the principal backing of the New Deal party," and added that he had been warned in advance of the disgraceful "Gestapo performance."

More than a dozen fist fights took place on the crowded floor during his speech, sponsored by the Texas regulars, an anti-Roosevelt organization.

Boos and chants of "We want Roosevelt!" continued without let-up. One blonde jumped on the back of a policeman who was trying to restrain a violent heckler.

Another woman smashed an umbrella on a spectator's head.

At least one egg was thrown at O'Daniel as he stood at the microphone closely flanked by 40 or 50 of his friends and supporters, invited to the platform where the audience became noisy.

The egg missed the Senator by two feet, smashing against the chest of Albert Weis, 25, a friend of O'Daniel.

State Security Fund Nearly 200 Millions

The Unemployment Trust Fund of the Social Security Administration has a credit of $192,681,427 for Massachusetts, John N. Hardy, regional director, announced today.

Hardy said Massachusetts contributed $26,739,334 to the fund in the past year. Claims paid to unemployed in this state totaled

Boston American, Nov. 3—37

$2,625,270, but the interest on Massachusetts' share was $3,214,308, leaving a balance over payments of $589,038, Hardy said.

He said initial claims increased from 15,593 during the July-September period of 1943 to 16,402 for the same period this year. Continued claims, as of Sept. 30, totaled 57,176, compared with 50,729 at the same time in 1943.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (INS).—Simon Michelet, president of the National Get-Out-the-Vote Club, today predicted a vote of more than fifty million—a new all-time high—in the national election.

The estimate, which is higher than has been generally made, is based upon Michelet's canvass of all available figures and 20 years of experience in the study of voting trends.

"I base my estimate in part on the fact that there are many states believed to be close, which results in intensive efforts to get out the vote; the larger percentage of registration in many states and a belief that a greater percentage of the eligible voters will vote this year," he said.

The estimate includes the service vote, variously estimated at from 2,200,000 to 3,000,000.

In the 1940 contest between President Roosevelt and Willkie a total of 49,815,312 voted for President. Actually, over 50,000,000 votes were cast—but 1,000,000 voted for lesser candidates and did not even cast a ballot in the presidential fight.

Record-American Experts Will Air Election Returns

Up-to-the-minute election returns, with experts presenting facts and probable results, will be broadcast by the Boston Daily Record-American over a WMEX hookup direct from the editorial rooms of these papers Tuesday night.

The broadcast will begin at 7 p. m. and continue until such hour as the returns give definite indication of the winners in the state and national elections.

The Record-American, through special arrangement with Station WMEX, will have radio equipment installed in the editorial room where the returns from all over the country will be arriving every minute.

Returns will be announced as fast as they come into the Record-American and listeners will be informed at all times of the exact position of their favorites in this hotly-contested election fight.

Among the seasoned newspapermen who will outline the voting trends will be Austen Lake, Boston American feature writer; Sports Editor Jack Conway; George Brady, chief editorial writer; Frank Reilly, Henry L. Daily and John W. English, veteran political writers for these newspapers; John Meade, and other authorities on political affairs.

During the evening candidates whose election seems assured by the returns will be called to the microphones to speak to the radio audience.

Listen to station WMEX election night from 7 p. m. and hear the Boston Record-American election returns, first, complete and accurate.

One-Vet Audience Better'n Jolson

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Nov. 3 (AP)—Not the audience, but the performer, Singer Al Jolson, had a lump in the throat after a performance at the Army air forces hospital here, the star confessed today.

It was a show for one man, Lt. Elmer H. Randel, 34-year-old air transport ferry pilot, of Lewis, Kan., who is bedridden and able to move on his head. His friends asked Jolson if he would visit Randel and cheer him up. "I wanted to cry when I met that guy, but instead I pulled my corny gags and sang everything he wanted to hear," Jolson declared. "Imagine—when I told him I'd be back next week to do another show for him, he just laughed and said: 'I'll be here.'"

AT LAST I'VE FOUND ONE TOILET TISSUE THAT SUITS THE WHOLE FAMILY

"EACH MEMBER of my family has a different idea about toilet tissue! But I've managed to suit all of them by choosing Waldorf. My husband says Waldorf is good and strong. My daughter likes its high degree of absorbency. Its gentle softness is a comfort to the baby's delicate skin.

"And I like it because it has all the qualities so important in a family tissue—softness, strength, absorbency. It's economical, too!"

Lana Turner's O. K.—But Oh! Such Dialogue! In Met. Film

By PEGGY DOYLE

For tops in trivia, Metro's lavishly produced romance, "Marriage Is a Private Affair," which is showing all week on Loew's State and Orpheum screens, rates an Oscar carved out of pointless bologna.

In this one, the studio's baby Bernhard, Lana Turner, goes the gamut of her goo-goo eyed tricks, pouting, dimpling, looking too, too devoted or too, too disaffected with accustomed, doll-like precision.

As the beautiful bird brain Theo West, she is a veritable honeytrap who carries on soul-searing, innocuous conversations with, first, James Craig and ducky conversation of Lana and funnier than the script-writers ever intended.

These three, and the rest of the cast talk, talk, talk to no purpose so endlessly that you can't help but wonder if, forced to get into action before the camera without a script, they muddled through ad libbing.

Believe it or sue me, the dialogue honestly sounds as if they ran it up themselves, especially Lana's contribution.

This lulu gets our guttural, week-end vote: "Oh, Tummy," murmurs Miss Turner into her infant's unheeding ear, "please grow up and learn what it is all about so you can tell me."

It is this sort of thing and a ducky conversation Lana and John Hodiak (a handsome hunk-a-man, who looks shamefaced most of the time), via an Army tail-hock-up between her father's San Francisco penthouse and a New Guinea base, that revives that old "Who's kooky now?" query.

LANA TURNER
"Marriage Is a Private Affair"

HEDY LAMARR
"The Conspirators"

Paul Henreid, who is one of our and your favorite film heartthrobs, girls, and Hedy Lamarr, who is your dish of tea, boys, are playing hide-and-seek with love and the Gestapo in "The Conspirators," at the Metropolitan.

This newest Warner's drama of terror and treachery and a high-heeled romance has for its locale Lisbon, but before we go any further it is not another "Casablanca." It is, though, a genuinely suspenseful business most of the going and is distinguished by some excellent performances by some of the finest actors of the new and the old worlds.

The Brothers Warner invariably do this sort of thing up brown. This time they don't disappoint. Their Hollywood-reconstructed Lisbon simulates convincingly that cult of intrigue, emotion, villainy, idealism and selfless courage that refugees speak of with such reluctance in this haven, America.

Henreid, the idolized "flying Dutchman" of Hodiak's underground, comes to Lisbon to confer confederates, meet his encounters and is instantly enamored of the gorgeous Hedy, suspect Nazi agent and wife of a German legation member.

From here on things get in the Alice-in-Wonderland vernacular, curmudgeon and catnip, and you'll enjoy a wonderfully miserable time suspecting and absolving the luscious Lamarr and such unlovely appearing characters as our over-upholstered pet, Sydney Greenstreet; runy, mysterious Peter Lane; suave, unpredictable Victor Francen; and Edward G. Robinson and Joseph Calleia, the silent and secretive ones.

"The Conspirators" lives up to the provocative promise in its title and, in its subtle fashion, shivers your timbers.—P. D.

Both Stage and Screen Fare Tops at RKO-Boston

by MARY X. SULLIVAN

Charlie Barnet's orchestra, "The Merry Monahans" and the durable Three Sailors share honors on the bill which opened at the RKO-Boston yesterday and which makes for a better-than-average combination of vaudeville and film.

Donald O'Connor, Jack Oakie and Peggy Ryan are the refreshing trio who head the cast of "The Merry Monahans," a light and bright little comedy marked by good performances and good direction. Cute and clever, Peggy Ryan is one of the best comedienne the screen has had in years and should be seen in more and bigger things. Donald has already demonstrated his boxoffice appeal.

The Barnet aggregation, to get to the stage show, is hot enough to please even the most rabid jivers. The maestro delights them as he leads the band in such numbers as "Cherokee," "Fompton Turnpike" and "Straighten Up and Fly Right."

They have with them a tap dancer named Bunny Briggs who could inherit the mantle of Bill Robinson. In an inconspicuous spot, the boy displays a pleasing personality and showmanship as well as a respectable ability. A Broadway revue could use him.

We don't dare say how many years ago we first saw the Three Sailors... and sure enough, they are the same daffy trio. And they are still very funny and very expert at timing and getting a laugh out of a corny gag. They close the act and give the bill a big lift.

We can't overlook the solos of Peanuts Holland, who "sends" the bobby-soxers like crazy; or Phil Baron, a handsome young baritone whose voice is more than pleasing. June Lorraine is a pretty girl who does imitations of such characters as Lionel Barrymore, Laughton, Bette Davis, etc.

Handless Veteran Bowls With Foot

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Pvt. Norman Myhra, 19-year-old veteran from Rosholt, Wis., who lost both hands in a mine explosion in southern France, has taken up bowling at the Army's Percy Jones Hospital. He scored 84 in a recent game—rolling the ball with his foot.

"It's easy, really," he explained, "only I find myself leaning over now and then to pick up the ball."

Fellow soldiers place the ball about a foot back of the foul line and then, balancing himself, right foot on the ball, Myhra shoves it

Kelly Notre Dame Ace For Battle With Navy

By JACK CONWAY

NOTRE DAME vs. Navy before 60,000 persons in the Municipal Stadium at Baltimore tomorrow will be the stand-out football attraction tomorrow. The fact the Irish were fortunate to win from Illinois last week has given added fire to today's game. There are many keen followers of football who believe that the Navy, which won from Pennsylvania last week by the decisive score of 26 to 0, will hand Ed McKeever's club its first defeat of the season.

Navy has an older and a more experienced club than Notre Dame. Annapolis, in view of its position as the naval academy of the country, has a longer course than the V-12 Navy program at Notre Dame. The Irish this fall have many 17 and 18-year-old players in their lineup. These youngsters have been aided by 19-year-olds and a handful of older boys.

Bob Kelly

Down through the years Notre Dame has had a habit of overcoming football difficulties. The spirit of its players, and their fine knowledge of football, has enabled them to overcome many obstacles. There is no reason to believe that the 1944 Notre Dame team will not emulate the deeds of former representatives of the Irish and rise to conquer the Navy. Notre Dame will be without the services of Achille Maggiori. This crack back has been transferred to the Marine training base at Parris Island, S. C.

Bob Kelly, however, will be in the Notre Dame backfield. The time it was feared that Kelly would be moved to another naval station before the game at Baltimore tomorrow, Kelly has been the driving power in the Notre Dame backfield. Ed McKeever says that this former Chicago high school star is a greater back than Creighton Miller, who won All-America game while at Notre Dame last season.

Navy Reaches Peak

NAVY GOT off to a poor start this fall, but it has finally reached its football peak. It played brilliantly against Pennsylvania last Saturday, and it is expected to show as well against Notre Dame at Baltimore.

The civilian members of the Notre Dame squad arrived in Baltimore today, but the naval and marine trainees will not reach Baltimore until tomorrow morning. The entire squad will leave for South Bend Saturday night so that everyone will be on the job for Monday morning classes.

Notre Dame will not have a breather after the Navy game as it battles the Army in the Yankee Stadium a week from Saturday. The Army was rated as the leading college football team in the country in a poll of sports writers.

Army Plays Villanova
IT IS NOT expected that the Army will experience much serious opposition from Villanova today, the form the Cadets showed as they won from Duke. They should run up a large score against Villanova. They will be able to take their stars out of the game early and rest them up for the coming battle with Notre Dame.

The Navy and the Army look upon the Notre Dame game as one of the most important on their schedule. It is always an objective game, and as a result the Middies and the Cadets will toss their full power against the Irish.

Yale and Dartmouth
IN A WAR period, the Yale-Dartmouth game has lost some of its former importance. Neither college is represented by a strong eleven. The game, however, has retained some of its old color and it may produce unexpected action.

Michigan, which has a strong eleven, will play Penn. while Georgia Tech will clash with Duke.

Boston College will clash with the PT boat eleven, which has many former college greats in its lineup, in a game at Alumni Field, Newton, that should produce action. Boston College has done a good football job this fall despite the fact it has had very little material.

Michigan, which has a strong eleven, will play Penn. while Georgia Tech will clash with Duke.

PT Mitey Mite Flattens Giants

By HUCK FINNEGAN

MELVILLE, R. I., Nov. 3.—This is a camp of All-Americans, as Boston College will discover tomorrow when the PT boaters, open their abbreviated football season at the Heights. There is Stew Carter, "Little All-America" halfback from San Jose State; dini hit a 24-year-old, 200-pound ensign named Joe Olsen, and the announcement came later: "Olsen won't play Saturday." That's how Lombardini hits 'em.

"Everybody around the base was calling me 'Shorty,'" explained Lombardini. "That's one thing I can't stand. But I've proved you don't have to be a 200-pounder to play football. Nor a PT boater either."

There's talent on this PT squad, and maturity. For instance, Bud Svendsen, graduate of Green Bay and Brooklyn Tigers, is 29; player-coach and fullback Red McClain, with the Giants in '41, is 27; All-America Thom is 26; Ensign Dick Secret, who weeps if his punts don't go 60 yards, is 24; Ensign Zoeller, whom we watched run back a kick 70 yards without blockers, is 25; and Gene Berger, 6-3 end from Syracuse, who catches passes like Lombardini, is 24.

When you see a little tyke like Lombardini bowling over giants like Lou Smith et al, you can't get your eyes off him. As we watched the scuffling, Lombardini

This is a service team with college spirit. This is a team that will find fighting on the gridiron tame stuff compared to fighting in the Pacific. This is a team that IAS to win. The 3300 in the base, from Com. David J. Walsh, insist they do that. Keep your left hand high, BC.

"Take each contest as a major campaign," is the warning here. . . . The squad will leave at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow, the 25-piece volunteer band going along with them—in buses. . . . Think of these names in the same PT squadron: Joe Burk, sculling champion; Paul Lillis, Notre Dame (injured so badly he won't play); Toby Macdonald (another doubtful); Bernie Crimmins, ex-Notre Dame captain; Steve Levanitis, of BC; Bill Stedman of Harvard; Ernie Pannell, teammate of John Kimbrough at Texas A. and M. Burk remained here only a few days, insisting on returning to the So. Pacific.

Bribe Bid to Leonard On Crucial Game Told

By CHARLES SEGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—This is another of the many incidents that clearly demonstrate the honesty of baseball, if there are still some doubtful ones around. The principal figure is Emil Dutch Leonard, knuckle-baller who once pitched for the Dodgers and now is a member of the Washington Senators.

Those who recall the final day of the past thrilling American League race will remember Leonard's work. He settled the race by holding the Tigers to four hits and pitched the Senators to a 4 to 1 victory. As the Yankees lost to the Browns that day, the St. Louis team won the pennant by one full game.

But there hasn't been a pitcher in baseball in many years who was under more severe pressure than Leonard was that day.

On that Sunday morning, Oct. 1, the telephone in Leonard's hotel room rang and, after Dutch pleasantly said "hello," the unknown voice on the other end cracked:

"Wanna make $2500 or $3000?"

Being human, Dutch naturally replied in the affirmative and then asked how.

"Well, you're pitching today, aren't you? You don't have to try too hard," the scoundrel put it.

What Leonard said to him isn't even being said in political circles these days about opponents. The guy hung up.

Leonard, with a full realization of his assignment that afternoon, took the story to Clyde Milan, Washington coach. He explained to Milan what had happened and then assured Clyde that "he was going to bear down harder than ever."

"You didn't have to tell me that. I know you will," Milan said. Leonard, whose manager, Ossie Bluege, had already told the team that all of baseball had their eyes on the Senators because of the Nats' known troubles with the Browns, picked one of his best games of the year. The rest is history.

Leonard, who was in town yesterday, admitted to a close friend that the story was true. His only regret was that he couldn't put his hands on the bozo who telephoned.

Brooks Is Star Of Rodeo Show

Taking first place in the cowboy roping contest and second in the bareback bronc riding contest, Louis Brooks of Pittsburgh, Okla., was the star of the 12th annual championship rodeo that opened before 10,000 at the Garden last night.

Brooks was the all-around cowboy champion 1943 and is leading the field for the same honor this year.

The feature of the opening performance was the appearance of S-Sgt. Frank Marshall of Forbes, N. D., in the bull riding contest. Marshall, stationed temporarily in Boston, has been through three campaigns in the European theater and has been awarded the Silver Star, two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Bronze Star.

Other first place winners were Turk Greenough, Red Lodge, Montana, and Sally Rand's husband, Bill Linderman in the steer wrestling; Tom Taylor, Spoford, Texas, in the wild cow milking contest; Bill Her, Fort Worth, in the wild Brahma bull riding contest and Jimmy Schumaker, of Phoenix, in the bareback bronc riding.

The story quoted the wife of the 28-year-old court star as saying the Navy informed her "that 'Hank' has regained consciousness and was taking nourishment for the first time in nearly two weeks."

One-Team System Adopted by Simons

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3 (AP)—Loss of 22 players from his football squad has forced Tulane Coach Claude (Little Monk) Simons, Jr., to adopt a one-team system for the rest of the season. There aren't enough replacements for two teams, Simons explained. The players were lost through naval trainee transfers and civilian examination failures.

Malden Choice Over Brockton Tomorrow

By MIKE GILLOOLY

While Malden and Salem High Schools' undefeated football squads ramble through opposition with sights set on next week's all-important meetings, three minor school skirmishes jump into the spotlight this first Saturday of November with undefeated records bound to pay the fiddler for the expensive tunes played by these eleven so far this season.

Malden should have little trouble settling Brockton in the clash at Brockton tomorrow while Salem should encounter even less difficulty in trouncing Gloucester while both will be eying stiff tests against Somerville and Peabody, respectively.

All of which will leave the field wide open for the Brookline-Belmont, Winchester-Reading and Abington-North Quincy contests to headline the weekly scholastic program. Of this group, Brookline, Winchester, Reading and Abington will be boasting clean slates with at least one of these bound to fall out of the elite class before the schoolboys concentrate on their Sunday card.

RED LIGHT AHEAD

In order: It could very well happen to Brookline. Coach Harry Downes' outfit has been chasing an injury jinx that has been dogging the squad for the past three weeks. He'll probably be forced to start Dick Johnson at quarterback, depending on how well Dana Estes' leg comes around, and Walter Connolly at center if Jim Duffy isn't ready after a lay-off because of a knee injury.

Belmont, meanwhile, will be strengthened by the return of three ineligible to the squad as well as the complete recovery of quarterback Jack Kelly. The comeback of this quartet will lighten the loss to Coach James Mastrogianni of guard Bob Brooks, out for the remainder of the season with a dislocated elbow as a result of the Chelsea game.

Coach Mastrogianni will be welcoming Chris Halligan to Brooks' guard slot; John O'Brien as a replacement for Andy Kellner at a tackle and Bob Powers as a first call backfield spare. They'll be lifting the load considerably for the plucky squad which has been one of the most pleasant surprises of the season—whipping Weymouth in one of the biggest upsets of the season and then nearly tipping Chelsea's Red Devils last week.

READING UNDEFEATED

It could very well happen to Reading. Undeclared in six games to date, Reading squad will be outweighed from end to end as Coach Al Kent's club attempts to complete its cycle of revenge against an equally undefeated Winchester. Reading was beaten three times last season—by Johnson, Gov. Dummer and Winchester. To date, Reading has avenged setbacks by the first two with Winchester remaining.

Coach Kent is certain that his team has a grand chance of winning this one. He has a defensive standout in Capt. Dan Norwood, 175-pound center, and the heaviest player in the line. He has two offensive crackerjacks in Ned Bloom and Dave Fisher, the latter with seven touchdowns to his credit. But the weight angle has Reading hithered.

Bruins Will Have Power for Vets' Tilt

By BILL GRIMES

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 3.—"Right now, we haven't a good club," confessed Manager Art Ross this morning, "but we are rebuilding and by the time they take to the ice against the Chicago Black Hawks on Nov. 14, for the American-Record-Advertiser disabled veterans' fund, the Bruins will be a far more formidable aggregation of puck chasers.

"We will carry at least 18 players this season. I'm going to be prepared to meet any emergency, so as not to be obliged, as I was a year ago, to bring up young and inexperienced players from the Olympics.

"I'm worried about the coming week-end. Gino Rozzini and Armand Gaudreault, who are up from the Quebec Aces and who signed up yesterday, are in Montreal to get their passports, as is Marcel Filion, who forgot to sign his when he returned it to the Canadian authorities.

DIAS FAITH IN JENNINGS
"In the event that any players are injured here Saturday during our game with the Maple Leafs, we are going to be in a bad way, for we have only 13 players, exclusive of Harvey Bennett, our goal minder.

"Busher" Jackson has had only one practice session and I wouldn't want to send him out against the fans' aggregation that 'Flap' Day has under his wing.

"I'm confident that Bill Jennings will fill the bill at right wing on the Cowley line. He is in better physical condition than any of my players," according to "Flap" Clapper, for he had played four games for Indianapolis before he played with the Red Wings against us last Sunday.

"I've always felt that Jennings would be a goal getter if he was played on the forward line. He was on the outer defense for the Red Wings but even so he got his share of tallies.

"Now Jennings is on a line with the best play maker in the NHL, Bill Cowley. If my contention, that he's a scorer, is correct, Jennings should contribute a lot of goals to the Bruin cause.

MORE DEALS ON FIRE
"During our stay in Quebec City, I noticed Mario watching Bill Cowley very closely. He couldn't watch a better man, if he set upon becoming a major league center. Young Cupolo is a chunky-built kid from Niagara Falls, Ont., with good possibilities while Ken Smith, who is the smallest and also the lightest member of the typhoon, is the standout of the newcomers.

"The three former Quebec Aces, Rozzini, Gaudreault and Filion, have not had enough experience to warrant my playing them as a line against N. H. L. competition.

So, I will put Art Jackson between Rozzini and Gaudreault and may send Filion to the Olympics.

"Although I have signed up five players this week, there are still a couple of deals on the fire. I cannot now divulge the names of the players I'm angling to get but if one of these transactions materializes we'll come up with a far better club than I thought we'd have this season.

"Personally, I don't believe the squad, as a whole, is deriving much benefit from the sessions we are holding at the Ravina rink. The ice is poor and it's almost an overnight jump from our hotel. But, there was nothing else we could do for there was a wrestling match at the Maple Leaf Gardens last night and tonight there'll be a bingo game for the sports service league at the home of the Leafs."

DOTS AND DASHES
Bobby Bauer is working out with the Bruins . . . He's still very much in the service, "posted" at a research station . . . Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart, the other two members of the famous Kraut Line, are with a Canadian bomber squadron in Northern England . . . The two Reardons, Terry, who belongs to the Bruins and Kenny of Les Canadiens, have been badly wounded . . . It is questionable if either will ever again be able to play hockey.

Trainer Win Green is anything but pleasant company these days . . . He hasn't been able to get some of the newcomers to adopt the Green System, so his work has been doubled.

And, he doesn't like it . . . He claims to be writing a book "Sports, Behind the Scenes With Win Green" . . . He says it is a masterpiece . . . "Busher" Jackson wishes to stop minding his business.

Return of Kelly No Concern to Middies
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 3 (AP).—News that Bob Kelly will be in the Irish league when Notre Dame meets Navy Saturday created little excitement in the Middies' camp.

The general impression seemed to be "if we beat them, we don't want any allies."

Mission Peril

Flak and fighters aren't the only worries of our raiders of Germany . . . and these two pictures bear that out. Bombs of a Fort flying overhead are dropped toward target . . . but another B-17 is in their path. See below . . .

Tail Stabilizer Sheared Off—One of the bombs in the load deposited by the bomber overhead (not shown) strikes one of the horizontal stabilizers of the B-17, leaves it dangling and plunges on toward the target. The mishap was not fatal, however, but gave the tail gunner a few worried moments. The damaged plane completed the mission and arrived at home base ahead of the rest of the flight.
